DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 11, 18, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Vaudreuil (5,621,727; cited by the applicants and applied for the first time).

Refer to column 32, lines 1-18, where the claimed SMS message language translation reads on the text message language translation of Vaudreuil. Vaudreuil teaches sending the translated message directly from the network node/intermediary (reads on the communication system 10) at which the translating was performed.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 11, 18, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Rincon et al. (Rincon; US 6,512,448; cited and applied for the first time).

Refer to FIGs. 1 and 2; and the Abstract, where the claimed SMS message language translation reads on the text message language translation of Rincon. Rincon teaches sending the translated message directly from the network node/intermediary (reads on the TRANSLATION SYSTEM 10) at which the translating was performed.

5. Claims 11, 18, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Levin (US 2004/0102201 A1; cited and applied for the first time).

Refer to FIGs. 1 and 2; the Abstract; and paragraphs [0007] and [0036], where the claimed SMS message language translation reads on the SMS message language translation of Levin. Levin teaches sending the translated message directly from the network node/intermediary (reads on the translation gateway 12) at which the translating was performed.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-10 and 20-27 are allowed.

7. Claims 12-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Creswell et al. and Rhee teach aspects of multimedia language translation at a network node. Hall et al. teach remote procedure calls using SMS (see claim 22). Sauer et al. and Garcia teach aspects of text message language translation.
